Bmj case reports editorial board

Can I extend my deadline for resubmitting my revised paper? Please send an e-mail to the editor by e-mail or to the manuscript entry system, where you provide your manuscript ID and how long you need. Please note that you can extend the deadline for resubmission after the original deadline has expired. How do I format my paper? All write and formatting policies can be found on the Author's page for the case report specifications, and consult the Author Hub, where you can also refer to our formatting checklist to make sure you covered everything when submitting. How can I track my submitted paper? The status of your manuscript can be found on your Author Dashboard in the manuscript entry system. If you are confused by the terms, here are explanations of the status conditions and an explanation of the publishing process at BMJ. I do not understand the comments of the editor or the editor, if you are not sure about the editorial comments or the comments of the editor, please send an e-mail to the editor and ask for clarification. While the comments of the assessors are specific to your work, general editorial requests can be resolved by consulting the author page or the Author Hub. My paper has been accepted, what happens next? Your paper will be reviewed by our editorial team. Your paper will be entered and you will receive proofs of your paper. If you have a request for a paper in production or have problems with your proof, please send an email to the production editor. Can't find what you're looking for? If any of these questions did not answer your question, please visit the Author page or Author Hub for information about the publishing process, policies, and policies. If you are an expert looking for advice, please visit our reviewer page. If you still can't find what you're looking for, please find the contact details below.
